

Privacy Notice

We respect your privacy. To serve you best, we do need current information about you. However, recognizing the sensitive nature of your personal information, everyone at Universal Insurance Company is careful to protect your privacy.

We collect information from you from the following sources:

- Applications and insurance forms you complete with personal information, including name, address, Social Security number, etc.
- Transactions you complete with us or with our affiliates. These may include payment histories, past premiums and claim processing data.
- Outside sources, including, but not limited to, law enforcement and state motor vehicle departments.
- Consumer reporting agencies.

All information about you remains personal and confidential—the only people who see it are the employees working to serve you. Universal Insurance Company is proud of the electronic security and internal procedures set up to protect you. We will never sell your information, and we do not reveal information about current or former customers to anyone except as permitted by law. UND 1288
